

A NEW HAIRCUT

Chris was nervous for his trip to the barbershop this Thursday. For the past few years, he had gotten the same haircut. But today, he was going to try something different. Doing something new can be fun, but also a little scary. Chris sat in the barber's chair and told the barber what he wanted. He said, "I want it really short on the sides and longer on the top!". He also told the barber he was nervous, so the barber told him exactly what to expect. He also gave Chris some juice to drink during the haircut! When the barber was done, Chris was happy with his new cut!
